YOUR PILOT · CHIPEX

Your Pilot: Brief and Roadmap

Here's everything we agreed on this morning's call, Johnny, so David and Joel can catch up too. Tap Approve on your portal (or reply "approved") and we start.

Client · Chipex Date · Mon 2 November 2026 Prepared by Mason

01 What we heard

In your words.

> "Not a invisible, perfect repair but a realistic repair that isn't noticeable. Before and after shots."
> FROM YOUR FORM

> "We're not promising perfection on all levels of damage. However, it's a hell of a lot better than spending 400 quid."
> JOHNNY, ON THE CALL

> "We don't want to over promise and make out it is a miracle product."
> JOHNNY, BY EMAIL, 28 OCT

> "Your initial focus will be on creating specific site visual assets and few ads, but not massive until the new year when we prepare for Spring."
> DAVID, BY EMAIL, 29 OCT

> "I want to see everything you guys can offer."
> JOHNNY, ON THE CALL

02 The goal

Show you, in two batches, that we can make honest, realistic repair content and studio-quality kit shots, with a fresh angle for each of your four buyers, so you go into the spring ramp-up with new creative ready to test instead of the same ads since August.

Context we're working to: your target CPA of £10 or less (never above £15), Pro is about 75% of sales, and winter is the quiet season, so this Pilot leans towards site visuals plus a handful of ads.

03 Who we're talking to

The four buyers from your v4 strategy doc. Each piece is written for one of them, with its own caption, rather than one caption for everyone.

BUYER	THEIR MOMENT	WHAT THEY BELIEVE NOW	WHAT WE WANT THEM TO BELIEVE
Martin, the burnt sceptic	Sees another "easy repair" video and thinks: how much more money am I about to waste?	A dab of touch-up always looks obvious.	A proper system (paint, blend, polish), done carefully, gives a result that's hard to see from a normal distance.
Priya, the body shop avoider	Finds a mark on the bumper and starts wondering what a body shop would charge, and how long she'd be without the car.	It's a body shop job or nothing.	She can do it at home in a morning, for a fraction of a quote.
Lane, the first-timer	Her first chip. Not much to spend, and not sure her damage is right for a kit.	"I'll make it worse."	It's three careful steps, the paint is matched to her reg, and if she slips she can wipe it back with the blending solution and start again.
Graham, the repeat user	Spots a new chip and remembers Chipex worked last time.	Already a fan, just not thinking about it today.	It's worth topping up his kit now, before the next one.

04 Guardrails

Brand	Your logo and guidelines (chipex.pdf from your form). Real kit contents and sizes exactly as you listed them (tube 170 × 100; paint, blend and polish bottles per kit).
Tone: it is	Straightforward, honest, quality.
Tone: it isn't	Flippant, down market, a "casual quick fix". "No Essex boys", no bodge jobs, no slang captions.
Claims you can make	"Excellent Trustpilot review score". Paint colour matched to your registration. Results range from flawless to hard to see, if done carefully. Wording for each claim to be signed off by you before anything runs.
Avoid	"Invisible", "vanishes", "miracle" or 100% promises. Christmas gift angles. AI-looking stock scenes. Naming or knocking competitors. Rushing: the repair takes patience, and we show that.

05 The plan

4 concepts. Every one has a reason.

CONCEPT	FOR	ANGLE AND REASON	WHAT IT TESTS	YOUR REFERENCE
C1 · The honest repair	Martin	A real chip, repaired carefully, shown close up and then from a normal distance. Reason: honesty builds trust and keeps reviews healthy as sales grow.	Whether honest "hard to see" framing holds attention as well as "flawless".	Your form; Johnny's "flawless to hard to see"
C2 · Chipex vs the body shop	Priya	A plain side-by-side: body shop quote and days without the car, against a Pro kit and one morning at home. Reason: price is the biggest hurdle, so we answer it with the real comparison.	Whether a direct comparison beats a generic "best seller" message.	The call; your form (price as the biggest hurdle)

CONCEPT	FOR	ANGLE AND REASON	WHAT IT TESTS	YOUR REFERENCE
C3 · Three steps, one morning	Lane	Paint, blend, polish, step by step. Half an hour for a chip, and you can undo a mistake with the blending solution. Reason: the fear of doing it yourself is what stops first-timers.	Whether showing the process and the safety net lowers the "will I mess it up?" barrier.	The call; how-chipex-works page
C4 · The kit, properly shot	Graham and your website	Studio shots of the Pro kit and the range on white with a soft shadow, an unboxing film, plus the two Autoglide samples. Reason: you asked to see everything we can do, including product shots that could replace a shoot.	Whether our studio shots are good enough for your product pages.	The call; your current website shots

06 Your 13 pieces

9 images and 4 videos, mostly on the Pro kit. Batch 1 is 7 pieces (5 images, 2 videos). Batch 2 is the other 6. Ads and social at 4:5, website shots at 1:1. Each ad piece comes with a caption written for its buyer.

08 What we need from you

CAN STOP THE CLOCK

Phone photos of the two Autoglide samples (front, back, each side and the bottom), and the Pro kit in the post

By Wed 4 November. Thanks for the Autoglide vector, that's in. We'll send our address for the kit separately.

Winter offer dates	David, the start and end dates of the 20% offer, so CHX-L04 is right.
Meta access	Add First Layer Creative as a partner, view performance only. Our Meta Business portfolio ID is 1339840711115712.
Joel's top performers	Your best-performing ads from the last few months, so we build on what already works.
Claim wording	Your OK on how we word the Trustpilot score and the body shop price comparison before anything runs.

09 How this works

Revisions	One round per piece. Batch 1 changes arrive with Batch 2.
Feedback	One list, by the code on each piece, within 48 hours. WhatsApp is quickest.
Guarantee	Every piece delivered on the dates above. If anything in Batch 1 isn't right, we fix it with Batch 2.
